Book design for a publisher of high quality books. The Creative Book Company, based in Istanbul, commissioned a design for a book highlighting the best of the collection of carpets in the Museum of Turkish and Islamic arts. All of their books are produced to the highest standards of photography, origination and print using the best papers and binders. This large format book (335 x 435mm) book retails for $1,000 and is bought mainly by bibliofiles and the worlds' top libraries. This book was produced in two volumes and then bound in silk and boxed. The first volume illustrated the carpets and the second contained the explanatory text. I also designed a number of promotional items including press advertisements, order forms, postcards and a fair stand.
